QUIET IN VIRDEN

Coroner's Jury Will Endeavor to Fix
Responsibility for Yesterday's Killings at the Mines.

OPERATORS' MEN DISARMED

Ten Men Dead and 20 Wounded—Crowds
Gathering in Town—Miners' Signals
Started the Fighting with General Firing.

Virden, Ill., Oct. 12.—The town is quiet today. Two Gatling guns of the Galena and an infantry sentry on each corner are about the only evidence of yesterday's riot outside of the O'Neill home. In the front yard of this house stand five black covered coffins, on each of which is the simple plate engraved "At rest." Under the lids are the mortal remains of the five victims of yesterday's battle at the stockade of the Chicago-Virden Coal Company. They are: Ernest Kitterly, Ellis Smith and Ernest Kreutner, of Mount Olive; Ed. Wetz and William Blue, of Springfield. Coroner Hart has impounded a jury and will endeavor to place the responsibility of the shooting. Colonel McKnight, of the governor's staff, accompanied by Adjutant General Reese, at midnight visited the stockade of the Chicago-Virden Coal Company and served formal notice on Manager Lukens that the strikers would visit the stockade today and disarm all the inmates. Colonel McKnight says no objections were offered to this proposition, and he expressed the opinion that there will be no further outbreak. Adjutant General Reese expects troops A, B, C and D, of the 1st Illinois cavalry, and four companies of Veterans from Rockford, DeKalb, Oregon and Macomb today.

Miner Bradley's Opinion.
"General" Bradley, leader of the delegation of sixty miners from Mount Olive, returned from the stockade with the remains of the dead Mount Olive miners. "I think this has been one of the most infernal outrages ever perpetrated on the laboring public," he said. "Our men were shot down like dogs. Our men had orders not to shoot unless fired upon. I do not expect further trouble in Virden for the present, but I cannot answer for the future, for there is a day of reckoning coming when the laboring men will be given bread instead of bullets." There is feeling among the people of the town not connected with the mines that the Virden miners are not responsible for the tragedy.

One citizen said the trouble had been caused by outside forces. A striking incident is the fact that in yesterday's bloody work not a single Virden miner was killed and only one slightly wounded. Detectives and Deputies Disarmed.
Captain Charles A. Fervier, commanding company B, Sons of Veterans, from Elgin, Ill., with part of his men, entered the stockade at 8 o'clock this morning and disarmed the detectives from St. Louis and the local deputies employed by the operators. They offered no objections.

Manager Lukens said: "The trouble yesterday was not of our making. The strikers simply surrounded the stockade. There must have been at least 1,000 miners. They opened fire, and the fact that we only had one man killed and six slightly wounded, I consider a miracle. There were thousands of shots fired. For some time the shots were directed at the train. After it pulled out the strikers turned on us. We returned the shots. I never supposed such a thing would result when we brought the negroes here."

Lukens would not say whether he would import other negroes when the soldiers leave.

List of Killed and Wounded.
The following is the list of casualties: Dead—Miners, Edward Walsh, Frank Blyen, Albert Smith, Joseph Kitterly, Ernest Kreutner, A. H. Brennan, Ed. Greene, Will Harmon, Joseph Baston; deputies, D. H. Klei, A. W. Morgan, Thomas Preston. Wounded—Miners, Amos Anker, Gustav Weyer, Ed. Upton, Thomas Jennings, Joseph Haines, Joseph Punk, George Punk, Joseph Shrimp, John Swan, Joseph Reicker, Albert Smith, Bart Trier, engineer; J. F. Eyster, superintendent of company store; W. A. Clarkson, guard; Clyde Ryan, negro; deputies, William Messer, James Palmer, Patrick McNair, Henry Grigall, O. J. Snyder, James McIntyre, J. W. Mooney, P. J. Hanan, J. H. Smith.

Manager Lukens gives the following official list of the killed and wounded within the stockade:

Dead—A. W. Morgan, Thomas Preston, Chicago; wounded—James Slick, Frank Wilber, Thomas McIntire, J. W. Mooney, P. H. Hannan, J. W. Smith, P. G. Gutzwiller, from the train. O. J. Snyder received seven bullet wounds and his condition is serious. After a careful investigation the list of casualties remains 10 killed and 20 wounded.

J. F. Eyster, superintendent of the Clinch Trading Company, an establishment controlled by the Chicago-Virden Coal Company, was severely wounded in the scrimmage yesterday. Crowds began to congregate today in the vicinity of the public square. The people, however, were kept moving by the soldiers patrolling the streets.

Fired the First Shot.
M. Turner, one of the guards stationed in the yards south of town to announce the approach of the train carrying the negroes, fired the first shot yesterday as a signal to the main body of miners. They had agreed, he says that 10 shots fired in rapid succession should be the signal that the train was approaching. Turner says he fired in the air and the men on the train answered with a volley into the crowd, whereupon firing became general.

Men are swarming into Virden upon every train and highway today, most of them miners, but they come into town unarmed.

Havana, Oct. 12.—The Spanish mail steamer Reina Maria Christina sailed for Spain today with 1,073 officers and troops, 651 cases of military archives and a heavy cargo of munition. The colonial government continues issuing decrees as usual, which is amusing in view of the fact that there are so many American commissioners here, who, in the course of a few days, will change the entire face of affairs. Americans do not pay the slightest attention to these recent orders, decisions or decrees.

Deficient in Medical Supplies.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Lieutenant Colonel L. J. Hoff was before the war investigating commission today. He was chief surgeon of the 3d army corps at Chickamauga. Dr. Hoff said that in the beginning the camp was deficient in medical supplies.

ALBUQUERQUE NOTES.

There is a big rush of work at the railroad shops here.

The police are raiding the local hop joints, and the offending Celestials are being fined $10 to $25 each.

Geronimo Alderete and Miss Maria Moya, well known in Albuquerque Methodist circles, have just been married.

The Duke City vocal quartet, composed of Edward Wilson, Edward Lane, Edward Williams and John Venable, leaves shortly on a California concert tour.

The Albuquerque wool scouring plant is reported as doing a rushing business, with 245,000 pounds of wool on hand, and shipping 25,000 pounds weekly to Philadelphia.

Editor Gordon Pearce, of the Albuquerque Democrat, disappeared a week ago, and like oats, peas, beans and barley grows where you, nor I, nor nobody knows. Pearce's whereabouts are unknown. None of the passenger conductors have seen him, and it is surmised he must have got away on some freight train. The Citizen thinks that domestic troubles, and a desire to escape from boom companions prompted this departure. He left unpaid bills, but they are such as might have been taken care of with out any alarming amount of exertion.

Noble Berggren, of Waho, Neb., who shipped 10,000 sheep out of this territory the other day via Las Vegas from a Valencia county ranch, was overhauled at Denver by Vice President M. W. Flournoy of the First National Bank of Albuquerque, and compelled to give a mortgage on the shipment to satisfy the bank for moneys advanced for the purchase of the sheep. Berggren is charged with having quietly driven the sheep to Las Vegas for shipment without notifying the bank of his movements, but the bank caught on all the same, and the vice president made a flying trip north with successful results.

LIABILITY OF CITIES.

Sidewalks Once Built Must Be Kept in Repair—Decision of the Courts on the Question.

The following decision on liability of cities for defective sidewalks is respectfully submitted to the mayor and city council for their information. They do not seem to understand that a sidewalk once built, it is their duty and not that of adjoining owners, to keep it in repair so as to be safe for travel of people whom they invite to walk upon it. When a party is injured by a defective sidewalk, caused by the stringers upon which the boards rested being decayed, so as not to hold nails, so that a loose board tipped when stepped upon by a companion walking with the person injured, and the proof showed that the stringers had been in this condition a long time before the accident, though it failed to show affirmatively the city knew of the particular board being loose at the time, it was held that the city was chargeable with notice of the unsafe condition of the walk, and was guilty of negligence in not having it repaired. City of Aurora vs. Hillman, 50 Ill. 61.

While it is true the evidence failed to affirmatively show this particular plank had been loose for any considerable length of time, yet it does show, beyond any controversy, it was either loose on that evening or in such a condition that it was loosened by being stepped on by Moreau. It further shows the sidewalk was laid on two stringers or bearings, which stringers were rotten, so much so that they would not hold nails or spikes, and that this was their condition at the particular place where the accident happened. The planks on the walk projected over these rotten bearings some three or four inches, so that if two persons were walking together on the walk, and one stepped his foot near the end of a plank it would throw up the opposite end of the plank and trip his companion as he moved his foot forward. Several witnesses testified the plank was loose at the spot where appellee was hurt, and they were not contradicted. The assumption that the only defect in the sidewalk at the place of the injury was that this one plank was loose, is not justified by the testimony. The primal defect was that which caused the boards to become loose, was, that the stringers were decayed and would not hold nails, and this had been their condition for a long time. Many of the witnesses say that the walk had been bad for years. After the lapse of so considerable a time, notice of the defective state of the sidewalk will be presumed. City of Aurora vs. Hillman, 50 Ill. 61-64.
